THE LANDS OF THE ABOVE-NAMED ASSOCIAtion are situated in San Francisco and are eligibly and most desirably located, adjoining the grounds purchased by the Presbyterian University Society, on which College buildings are to be at once erected. The site is less than thirty minutes ride from Montgomery street; lying just west or back of the lands of the South San Francisco Homestead and Railroad Association and the Bay View Park, almost within a stone's throw of

ST. MARY'S COLLEGE.

The tract will require little or no grading, there being scarcely a single lot on which it would not be safe to build without any change of grade. It commands a

Beautiful View of the Bay,

And its opposite shore, and has a soil of extreme richness. So great are the natural attractions of the spot that very many of the wealthy citizens of San Francisco have already purchased whole blocks in the same tract, and design building residences thereon.

The Rev. E. Thomas, D. D.,

Is President of the Association; Lester L. Robinson formerly Vice President of the Sacramento Railroad Company, is the Treasurer, and Thomas B. Lewis, formerly of Portland, Secretary.

Four lots, 25x120 feet each, constitute a share, costing $315—paid in monthly installments of $10 each, after the first payment of $20 has been made.

This Machine captured the Special Premium at the California State Fair, and all that have used it pronounce it an invaluable adjunct to aid housekeepers and families and washing men and washing women.

It has been extensively introduced throughout the State of California, and receives the universal commendation of all who have used it.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

FROM A CORRESPONDENT OF THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, April 11, 1867.

The subjects of most absorbing interest on this side the continent just now, are Reconstruction—Famine and Floods in the South—Paris Exposition and the steamship Great Eastern—Russian America and the high price of bread—Labor strikes and the ladies latest fashions—Maximillian getting out of Mexico and the Austrian mission—Woman's Rights and men's tight pants and bob-tail coats. It is very difficult to decide among all these which item creates the greatest sensation. We incline to the opinion that Reconstruction and the short coats may be classed as the head and tail of the whole matter.

The extraordinary revolution that is now taking place in the sentiments and action of the people of the Southern States, will be the most remarkable chapter in the history of our country.

The ablest men of the South are leading off in the work of reorganization and submission to the will of Congress. Such men as Lee, Longstreet, Beauregard, Orr, Wade Hampton, Henry A. Wise and Mallory, who have the good sense to know and appreciate that the two races, white and black, nearly equal in numbers, must have their interests inseparably interwoven in the future of the South, are determined to cultivate friendly relations, and harmonize the action of the two classes for the interests of both.

THE LABOR PROBLEM.

The condition of the working classes not only in the large cities, but also in the rural districts, wherever large numbers are gathered together as at the coal and iron mines, is growing into fearful importance by reason of strikes for advanced wages, and threatens coercion against all men who may attempt to work at less wages than those prescribed by the strikers.

The insufficiency of wages to meet the demands of high prices for living, the large numbers of unemployed and moneyless men which the close of the war has returned to all the towns and districts, the tendency of people to flock into the large cities and overstock all branches of labor, to the neglect of the cultivation of the soil, is rapidly evolving a problem in social and political economy, that will tax the heads and the hands of our best statesmen and order-loving citizens.

In the mining regions of Pennsylvania and New Jersey a fearful state of affairs exists. There is not in any portion of our new mining Territories any place where the gamblers or "road agents" have so full play and magnify themselves as they please—a more general feeling of insecurity of life and property—than now exists in nearly all the counties of those States, where coal and iron mining are the principal pursuits of the inhabitants.

Everybody who can borrow or steal a revolver, goes armed. No one feels safe after dark, and many of the better class of citizens are consulting about forming Vigilance Committees as in San Francisco not many years ago.

In a single locality in New Jersey, only a few hours ride from this city, where there are fifteen iron mines, yielding annually from 200,000 to 250,000 tons of iron of a superior quality, furnished with the best and most costly machinery, and where there are about 2,000 hands employed, fearful anarchy and riot prevails. The strikers demand more pay, and all work is suspended. Those who would be willing to work at the old wages, dare not for fear of violence from the great body of strikers. All teams are prevented from loading with ore, or traveling on the grounds. At the mines the steam machinery is kept going, to work the pumps, for if the shafts were once filled with the water which flows in, they could not be again worked for months. Where the matter will end it is hard to guess.

In this city the following tradesmen and laborers are now on strikes, and work in their several trades is about at a stand-still:

House carpenters are on a strike for an advance of wages from $3 50 to $4 per day. They hold mass meetings in different parts of the city, and express a determination of holding out until the $4 per day is paid them, which at the present high rates of all the articles used in household consumption, and the exhorbitant rents demanded by landlords, they claim is absolutely necessary to support a family.

Stone masons have just made a demand and got an increase from $4 to $4 50 per day.

House painters now get $3 50, have made a strike for $4 00. Ship builders and ship painters have both been on strikes for a long time and have effected a compromise. Tin, slate and metal roofers are holding meetings to organize a strike on the first of May, from $3 50 to $4 00 per day. Railing blacksmiths and finishers have resolved on the same advance. Horse shoers are discussing an early strike. Shoe-makers of Brooklyn are now on a strike for an additional sixpence on a pair of pegged shoes. Tool sharpeners are about to demand $3 50 per day, and as they are an extensive number, they can easily carry their point. The house carpenters of Philadelphia are on a strike for an advance from $2 50 to $3 00 per day. The plasterers and stone cutters made a similar move some time ago, and held out six weeks without doing any work. The country generally is in a striking attitude. The politicians are striking for more offices; the clerks for higher salaries; the women are striking for the ballot, and old maids for the bachelors.

It has been said, and we think with truth, that New York is at this time the dearest city in the world to live in, and unless one may be content to go to the Potter's Field, or be directed by the doctors, of which (the doctors, not the Field) there are only about nine thousand in the city, certainly no man or woman can afford to die here. A review of this week's market prices of breadstuffs and other staple articles in New York will give your readers some idea of the cost of living. When it will pay to send both wheat and flour from California and Oregon to this market, and shippers are warranted in making large purchases of California wheat in Liverpool for re-exportation to this side of the Atlantic, as was done by cable dispatch on the 3d of this month, the transactions are calculated to dispel all doubts that might be entertained on that point. Take note that the following are wholesale prices, and for rates which consumers have to pay, add thereto 20 to 50 per cent.

BREADSTUFFS AND PROVISIONS.

Flour, in the order at which it sells in this market, is rated as follows:

New York State common brands, $10@12 50
" " extra and superfine, $12@13 75
Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, &c., $10@14 00
Ohio choice extra brands, $13 25@14 50.
Genesee extra brands, $13 50@15 75.
California and Oregon, $15@16 25.
Missouri, $13 75@18 00.

By the last steamer from Aspinwall there arrived 1,000 barrels of Oregon flour, shipped by Messrs. Savier & Co., and we understand it came out of the gunnies and sacks in prime order, and rates next to the best Missouri, which is the highest priced flour in the market. To the Portland value of this flour, say $6 50, gold, add freight to New York, $1 50 or $4, and the cost laid down here is about $10 25 gold, or $13 75 in greenbacks and as it sells at about $16, the margin for profits is very handsome. But as the prices of all brands have advanced within the month, and the news from the west indicates a "short supply," it may be expected the further shipment of Oregon flour to this city will bring a still greater price. Indeed, if some of the Western statements may be relied upon, there is barely grain and flour enough in the country to suffice until the next harvest, and some are predicting an actual dearth in the "staff of life" before August. We may yet see the later shipments of Oregon flour selling at $18 or $20.

Rye flour sells at $7 50 and $8 50, and corn meal at $6 25 per barrel. Of course the wheat market is correspondingly advanced, and there is no little excitement among the grain speculators. In this, California leads the market, as the following list will show:

Chicago wheat, per bushel	$2 40@2 58
Milwaukee wheat, per bushel	2 50@2 70
New York Amber wheat, per bushel	3 25
Michigan White wheat, per bushel	3 50
California White wheat, per bushel	3 20@3 40

All estimates in this market are made by the bushel instead of the hundred pounds; many of the lake cities recently adopted the central system, but they have already grown dissatisfied, and are generally returning to the old standard of measures. We quote further wholesale values of grain as follows, per bushel.

Rye	$1 45@1 68	Barley	$1 15@1 22
Corn	1 20@1 28	Peas	1 40
Oats	70@

The United States vs O Humason.

As an attempt has been made to show that the late indictment against Mr Humason was wholly in the nature of a malicious prosecution on partisan grounds, we take the liberty to examine the case, and in the light of known and indisputable facts, to inquire whether the prosecution was "malicious" or groundless, as has been asserted by the organ of his party

The action was brought against Mr Humason on a charge of bribery, it being alleged that by a gift of certain lots at the Dalles to Congressman Henderson, he had endeavored to secure that gentleman's interest and influence for the establishment of a Branch Mint at the town above named Now for the facts.

I Congress passed a law, approved July 4th, 1863, to establish a Branch Mint at Dalles City.

II. The Legislature of Oregon passed a memorial at the session of 1864, praying for the removal of the Mint from Dalles City to Portland.

III. The question of the removal of the Branch Mint from Dalles to Portland was discussed in the canvass prior to the election to which J. H D. Henderson was chosen as a member of the 39th Congress, and it was a matter of public notoriety that he would favor removal.

IV. A bill had been introduced at the second session of the 38th Congress to change the location of the Mint to Portland.

V. Mr. Humason and the people generally had every reason to apprehend the removal at the first session of the 39th Congress.

VI. At this stage of affairs Mr. Humason executed the following deed:

Know all men by these presents that I, O. H[illegible], in consideration of one dollar, paid by J. H. D Henderson, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, do hereby convey, remise, release, and forever quit claim unto the said J. H. D. Henderson, his heirs and assigns, all that lot, tract, or parcel of land, situate in Wasco county, Oregon, and described as follows, to-wit: Lots four (4), five (5) and six (6), in block thirty-two (32) in the Bluff Addition to Dalles City. To have and to hold the above released premises, to the said J. H D. Henderson his heirs and assigns, to his own use and behoof forever.

(We omit the warranty clause.—Ed. OREGONIAN.)

In witness whereof I, the said O Humason, have hereunto set my hand and seal this 11th day of October 1865

O. HUMASON.

Signed, sealed and delivered in presence of
HUGH EGAN,
JAMES A. ODELL.

STATE OF OREGON, } ss.
County of Wasco.

On the 11th day of October, 1865, before the undersigned, a Notary Public, came the above named O Humason, who is known to be the identical person described, and who executed the foregoing conveyance and acknowledged that he had executed the same

ENDORSEMENT BY THE COUNTY CLERK.

Filed for record October 11th, 1865, at 2 o'clock P. M. Recorded on page 592, Book "C," of Deeds.

H. R. KELLY, Clerk.

VII. Before Mr. Henderson had qualified or taken his seat, Mr. Humason wrote him the following letter, enclosing the above deed. Mr. Henderson immediately made a deed back in the presence of witnesses, refusing to have anything whatever to do with the business:

DALLES, OREGON, Sept., 1865.

HON. J. D. HENDERSON:

Dear Sir—We at the Dalles are glad to learn that you now favor the carrying out of the law establishing the Branch Mint at this place, for which please accept my sincere thanks on my own part, and that of the people east of the Cascades. We did hear you favored its removal on account of the action of the Legislature of this State, but since the failure to pass a law to remove it, I believe you will agree with me that it is now the interest of Oregon to have a Branch Mint as early as possible. Since the thing has become fixed it ceases to be a local question, but becomes a State institution, in the consummation of which the whole State has an interest.

You must be aware that to have a Branch Mint in Oregon, instead of relying on California, there would be one step less by which we are playing "second fiddle" to California. It would be far better for Oregon if all such connections that bind us to California were severed. As it is, Oregon has no identity aside from California. Our Representatives in Congress scarcely have an identity aside from California; our sister State over-tops and overshadows us. Its shades obscure our political, commercial and our every interest. The Pacific Railroad is only looked of to terminate in California, though we have better and cheaper routes for its construction. The overland mail, (a thing of much interest to us remote and frontier settlers), goes to California first and then comes to Oregon, when we could reach it more expeditiously and cheaper by Salt Lake; but I will not pretend to enumerate the many things wherein California leads us. Oregon interests California is on the wane, and the great mining interest is fast being transferred to the section between the Cascades and Rocky Mountains in this State, Washington, Idaho, Montana and the British Possessions up the Columbia. Should the Branch Mint be established at no early day it would have more importance than that accommodation of the people of our own and the adjoining Territories. By having a mint soon, and before the trade becomes established from the Kootenai and Upper Columbia mines with fraser River and Victoria, we would secure millions of dollars annually of British gold for American coinage; and following that would be the trade for supplies which would be secured to American citizens. (A treaty similar to that upon our Canadian border would be of great advantage to us.)

Oregon has really less interest in the Mint than either Washington, Idaho or Montana. We are simply the gate-way and hold the key of the trade of those Territories, and with proper management we may become what California has been to this coast.

New mines have been discovered in the Blackfoot country, about 150 miles this side of Fort Benton. Hundreds of pack animals have gone from this place and Walla Walla with supplies for these mines. The O S N. Company have sent machinery to the Cœur d'Alene Lake to put on a steamboat for this trade. I believe the greater part of the mountain trade will drop this way.

Hoping you will act with enlarged views for the interests of the whole State, and being assured you now favor carrying out the law establishing the Branch Mint at this place, and as an expression of my good will and that of the people of this place I beg you will accept the enclosed deed in the spirit of friendship in which it is given.

I remain yours truly,
O HUMASON

VIII. Mr. Henderson afterward introduced a bill to change the location of the Branch Mint to Portland.

IX. The indictment against Mr. Humason was found by a grand jury composed of eighteen men of unexceptionable character, a large proportion of them, including the foreman, Orville Risley, being of the same political views with Mr. Humason.

We apprehend that no one after reading this recital of facts, and especially after reading the last paragraph of Mr. Humason's letter, will experience any difficulty in forming an opinion in this case. The motive which led to the whole transaction is apparent, and cannot be obscured by any gloss of fine words, or by any irrelevant charges against the "old abolition disunion party." If Mr. Humason or his political friends think he has gained any credit or honor by the transaction, they are welcome all the satisfaction that disunion can bring them Here stands the record. Mr. Humason need take no pains to explain the reasons which prompted him to make the conveyance of the property or to write the letter. People can and will judge for themselves, as they have abundant data on which to found an opinion.

Had it been simply the desire of Mr Humason to make Mr. Henderson a present of the property without ulterior or sinister purposes, or other consideration than that of "friendship," why this long recital of the wants of the upper country in general and of the Dalles in particular, closing with the allusion to the Branch Mint and a tender of the town lots in question? Is not the whole of this a most extraordinary proceeding for an affair of disinterested "friendship?" Can any one after examining the case separate the gold of friendship from the dross of corruption? We repeat that no explanation of the case is at all necessary from Mr. Humason or his friends. All who deem it worth their while to examine it will easily understand its merits.

THE QUIBBLE.—A favorite habit with the "organ" is to denounce its opponents for "quibbling." At the same time it modestly claims that its own course is faultlessly logical. But in fact, as we have often shown, its constant habit is to quibble and raise absurd distinctions. The whole of its political logic may be easily reduced to a single formula. Here it is: States cannot be punished for treason, because they are sovereign, and individuals cannot be punished for treason, because they merely obeyed their States. This is the substance of its ponderous columns of "logic." It is the most pitiful quibbling imaginable, yet it is repeated by the "organ" almost every day in the year. If it is to be continued for another year, can't it be presented with some slight variations so as to relieve its dreary monotony?

Spirit of the Southern Press

The prompt and decisive measures of Congress are working like a charm The military bill as is already shown, was just the thing needed to settle the South A complete revolution has been effected, if not in the Southern feeling, at least in Southern action This shows the great wisdom of the firm measures instituted by Congress. It also proves that the whole difficulty since the close of the rebellion has grown out of the vagaries of the course pursued by the President Had he been firm with the South and adhered to the course he entered upon after the death of Lincoln, the entire difficulty would long ago have been composed. But he led those people to believe that they still might be masters of the situation He gave them the idea that instead of being conquered rebels whose duty was absolute submission, they were persons who had done no wrong, who had forfeited no rights, and who by bold presumption might yet obtain political mastery All this had to be unlearned. These delusions the act of Congress has dispelled, and the South now comprehends its actual situation The efficiency of the act is evidenced by the changed tone of Southern journals, which, awhile ago bitter and defiant, have suddenly become quite moderate and rational We have before us a large variety of Southern papers from which we make extracts to show the change that has been wrought in the spirit of the Southern press. Senator Wilson of Massachusetts has been making speeches through the South. The Richmond Dispatch has the following in reference to him

We publish this morning a report of a speech made by Senator Wilson in Petersburg night before last It seems to us that no one ought to object to the spirit of his remarks His declarations that he believed the South went to war in a "wicked" cause is rather more candid than consistent, yet we would not have him suppress any of his real opinions His candor in this respect entitles to greater weight his averments that he does not desire that any man in the South should be disfranchised; that he hopes to see all disabilities removed even from our leaders in a short time; and that he has never legislated from unworthy motives, nor because of conscious hostility to his Southern brethren

General Sickles' recent utterances afford abundant encouragement to hope that his administration will be eminently conservative His strong assurances of the deep interest he feels in the domestic quiet and material prosperity of North and South Carolina, his kindly and wholesome advice to our colored population and his determination to enforce the Reconstruction acts, free from all penalty or prejudice, warrant the belief and hope that his administration will be eminently successful in restoring quiet and prosperity, and breaking down those unnatural prejudices and animosities which have grown up among the people, originating in a great measure, no doubt, from misrepresentation and partisan feeling. We confess that we have been more than gratified at the sound views expressed by General Sickles and his recent brief address to both white and colored at Charleston They fully justify the statement we expressed immediately on his appointment, that his experience and acquaintance in the District rendered his appointment fit and proper

The Columbia (S. C.) Phœnix which has heretofore been one of the most rabid of Southern journals, now employs soft words like these:

There should be no division—no parties or cliques, but all, actuated by the same noble purpose, the salvation of our State and country, unite in the determination to ignore the pretentious claims of demagogues and mere partisans, and entrust their interests to men who, with honest instincts of patriotism, have made Carolina, and intend to make it their home and the home of those who may come after them. Such men, well qualified, and eligible, can be found throughout the State, and upon them let all the voters, white and colored, unite There is no reason why there should be division, and especially when that division may and will probably defeat reconstruction—the great end to be obtained, not only in a political point of view, but for the future material well being and prosperity of the State.

The Atlanta (Ga.) Era, speaks in a hopeful and sprightly manner of the reconstruction act, as follows:

In all parts of the South the people are marching forward to the music of the Sherman Reconstruction bill, and in this connection we beg leave to add that a few brief months will see the people again united from Maine to the gold capped hills of California We are bound to be one people, and the sooner we reach this practical conclusion the better for the South and all concerned We have clung as long as we could to the idea that it would be dishonorable to accept terms proposed by the victor, and we are now looking at the practical side of the picture and the necessity of getting back into the Union with the least possible delay. When necessity comes in conflict with abstract notions the latter are very apt to give way.

The Mobile Tribune is delighted with the order issued by General Pope on taking command of his military department:

The document is all that we had hoped it would be. No civil officers will be removed so long as they conduct themselves in accordance with the law recently passed by Congress, but the General reserves to himself the power of filling vacancies His expression of the hope that no necessity may arise for military interference with the civil authorities is a good omen. No more worrying about elections, no responsibility for some time to come, at least. Abolition, here let us rest! To render strict obedience to the law, and even to assist the authorities in carrying it out, if ever it becomes necessary, is the duty of every good citizen. We feel certain that General Pope will receive no provocation from our people to turn aside from the mild course which his order shows he is inclined to adopt

The Mobile Times is equally delighted with military government under General Pope From a laudatory article upon the General's course, we take the following:

We can see in his prompt desire to reorganize a legitimate government a sure evidence of the purity of his intentions It is now for our people to answer to the appeal made to them, and in the words of the General, "make an active part in reconstructing their State give assurance" We repeat again that there are more durable laurels to be gained in the field of civil reform than in the bloody strife, and that the part of pacificator is greater than that of the conqueror

The New Orleans Picayune earnestly advocates the fraternization of the whites with the negroes, and severely upbraids the former for pursuing a course which will drive the latter over to the Radicals. It insists that for the sake of conciliating the negroes, some of them ought to be sent to Congress, and thinks they are quite good enough to represent the Southern people These further statements are made:

It is ridiculous for any one to pretend that he is low ered or disgraced by going to the polls with a negro, when he crowds in at the general delivery with him to get a letter at the post office. Is it because the negro is exercising political influence and control by his vote? You will surrender this altogether to him and to those who remain at the South only to despoil you, and to work him as a means to enrich themselves, if you do not vote.

The Jackson (Miss.) Clarion of the 2d April, admits that a revolution of sentiment has been effected by the reconstruction act:

A hopeful sign of prudent action by the people of the South, and of a wise adjustment of their conduct to the circumstances in which they are placed, is afforded by the marked change in the tone and views of the press within the past two weeks We refer to that portion which advised the people to remain inactive and exercise no agency whatever in shaping future events.

The Charleston Courier is not afraid of "negro equality." It talks in a manner which shows that some change has taken place in public opinion in regard to the negro in the last six years.

There is within the limits of the Commonwealth no necessity for any antagonism It is not for the interests of the colored race Here they are to reside and make their livelihood This is to be their home, and this people to be their people. Their truest friends are those by whom they are surrounded, and among whom they and their children are to pass their lives and earn their bread and enjoy their freedom. Those who, from what ever quarter, are seeking to create agitation, dissension and strife, or to put enmity or ill will between the races, or to create distrust, are their worst enemies.

Stephen R Mallory of Florida, ex Secretary of the Confederacy that was founded on the "great philosophical idea" that the negro had no rights of any sort, and was destined to remain forever in a state of subordination and servitude, has received new light, and now talks about the negro in the honied words that follow:

The prosperity of the State must depend upon the virtue and intelligence of her people, and no wise man will hesitate to do all in his power to elevate and improve the character and condition of the colored race, between whom and the Southern people an indestructible bond of sympathy, based upon a thousand happy memories, exists. Let us fully and frankly acknowledge, as well by deeds as by words, their equality with us and regard it as no less just to ourselves and them than to our State and her best interests, to aid in their education, elevation and enjoyment of all the rights which follow their new condition

Is not the law which has wrought these salutary changes in public sentiment, or at least in expressions of public opinion, entitled to the honor of being called most beneficent act of the age?

The rapid increase of the strength of the order of Good Templars throughout the State shows a return to "sober second thoughts" among the people that must produce increasing good results.

The Courier says Mr R C Kinney informs us that he has in contemplation the rebuilding of his flouring mills at McMinnville during the present year perhaps These mills were built by W T Newby some sixteen years since and have been a power in favor of the prosperity that has attended McMinnville during its entire history These mills are propelled by water power furnished through a ditch some five miles in length constructed by W. T Newby and emptied into "Baker Creek" adjoining the town

The following in regard to the John Day mines is taken from the Umatilla paper The miners are busily at work and doing well No Indians on the route from this place, but they have done some mischief on the route from the Dalles to Canyon City Mr Ogle has joined with other parties and will run a saddle train from this point Some of the claims are paying thirteen dollars per man There is still ground unclaimed which, it is said, will pay for working There are new diggings struck on John Day's river at the mouth of Camas Creek, as good as Lowe's diggings

The Umatilla Press of the 4th says Mr Parsons, the Granite Creek expressman, on his last trip went through to Burnt river and brings back the most flattering account of the Burnt river mines. There are about thirty miners now on the river, and the reports of the extent and richness of the country are almost fabulous. For seventy miles it is thought the diggings, on an average, will pay from ten to fifteen dollars per day to the hand One claim, owned by Stephen Winters is paying two ounces per man. The gold is worth sixteen dollars per ounce It is reported that three thousand men will be in the valley this season The winter has been mild, and the miners have been at work for the last six weeks We were shown a nugget weighing twenty dollars and a half Why will men run wild with excitement hundreds of miles distant, when within our borders there are as rich diggings in our own State? We shall furnish such information in future as may come to us

CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000!

Directors:

JOHN PARROTT, CHAS. E. McLANE,
WM. C. RALSTON, A. HAYWARD,
LOUIS A. CARNETT.

LOUIS A CARNETT..... President and Manager.
JOHN HEWSTON Jr. ..Chemist and Superintendent.

THIS COMPANY HAVING GREATLY enlarged their Refining Works, and introduced many other important improvements, are pleased to announce that they feel warranted in again reducing materially their terms of doing business

THE TARIFF OF CHARGES

Which they now submit to the public—considered with reference to the cost of material and labor—is lower than in any other part of the world, and secures to the mining interest of this coast an important increase in both the mining and commercial value of bullion

Their charges hereafter will be as follows:

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED GOLD BARS.

One-eighth of one per cent. (heretofore a quarter) for all amounts over $1,000, and two dollars for any smaller sum. Returns made in twenty-four hours.

FOR ASSAYING DEPOSITS FOR UNPARTED SILVER BARS.

Two dollars for the gold contained, up to $1,000, and one-eighth of one per cent. for all amounts over that sum, and one per cent on the silver contained. Returns made in twenty four hours.

FOR REFINING DEPOSITS MADE FOR COIN OR FINE BARS.

On bullion under 300 parts gold, 2 cents per ounce.
On bullion from 300⅛@600 parts gold, 4 cents per ounce.
On bullion from 600⅛@750 parts gold, 6 cents per ounce
On bullion from 750⅛@900¼ parts gold, 8 cents per ounce.
Above 900 the only charge will be for coinage. But there will be no charge for refining less than two dollars

FOR COINING GOLD.

This charge will be the same as at the Mint—a half of one per cent.—and which is paid by us to that institution But there will be no charge in future for making fine gold or silver bars from bullion refined by us.

RETURNS IN COIN IN FORTY-EIGHT HOURS.

Silver contained in deposits for coin will be accounted for at the same rate customary at the Mint.

Gold bars of other Assayers, in good standing, will be cashed by us at the highest market rates.

Dust and bullion can be forwarded to us from any part of the country, and returns made through Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express

CHARGES AT U. S. BRANCH MINT.

For the convenience of those not familiar with the terms of the Mint, we subjoin the tariff of charges now in force at that institution

For refining bullion under 300 parts gold, 8 cents per ounce
For refining bullion from 300⅛@600 parts gold, 8 cents per ounce.
For refining bullion from 600⅛@750 parts gold, 7 cents per ounce
For refining bullion from 750⅛@930 parts gold, 11 cents per ounce
For refining bullion from 930⅛@949¼ parts gold, 14 cents per ounce
The charge for coinage is half of one per cent., and the charge for making fine silver bars, the same.

Comparing the net value of deposits for coinage, with the proceeds of unparted gold bars sold in the market—assuming that the bars have cost ½ of one per cent—they must be sold at the following par rates to equal the return which would have been made had they been deposited for coinage

850 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents
845 par to equal Mint return, at refining charge of 14 cents
866 par

BELLIGERENT.—The northern end of the city was pretty well over, yesterday, by some genius of decided belligerent proclivities. The exercise of his influence was first manifested by a pretty loud confab of a hostile character, among some of the hotel runners on the P T Co's wharf. Nothing, however, came of that but loud words and some gesticulation. The next outbreak occurred a few minutes later, between a couple of draymen between whom there arose some dispute about the right to haul a load of hogs. No. 1 had one of the hogs on board his dray; No. 2 wanted it; No. 1 refused to give up the hog on which he was, nine pounds in a dray is the proper allowance in law; No 2 insisted and finally seized the unconscious hog; whereat, No. 1 waxed wrath and began a pretty free use of a dray stake which he happened to have in his hand. A whack on the back and another on the head of No. 2, the latter he beat down immediately and remains intensely quiet for about forty seconds. Then No. 2 gets up; looks wildly around a moment and recollecting what had happened, manifests an intense desire that No. 1 shall "come down from there" (the dray) and permit himself to be pounded. No 1 keeps on about his work. Another hog is brought along; No. 1 seizes porker, No. 2 seizes porker; then a tussle and a break and a general scramble; no further injury inflicted; the parties escape all arrest; no further hostilities; No. 1 loads porker on to his dray and proceeds off. A charge of assault and battery followed, which will be heard to-day before the Recorder. About six minutes later in the day, a state of war was declared to be in existence between Charley Lawrence and three or four Chinamen; seat of war, near McCraken, Merrill & Co's barrel factory, Charley was seen retreating with three or four of the enemy in hot pursuit. Finding an opportunity, Charley fired a twenty-pounder in the shape of a boulder, and stopped, one Chinaman from further pursuit. The Chinaman laid down. Charley fled. A policeman, however, arrested both the contending hosts, and the Chinaman was hauled off to jail on a dray. A charge of assault and battery was lodged against the Chinaman, which will be examined to-day. It wasn't a very good day for fights, either.

A SUSPICION.—A colored man named Alexander Wilkins who keeps a little shop on First street, between Washington and Stark, was arrested yesterday morning on suspicion of being the incendiary who attempted to burn Oro Fino Hall. He was arrested in the morning, after being detained sometime and no one appearing against him, he was released. Subsequently, Mr. Maloney, Ex ... Attorney, got out a warrant and had him re-arrested. He was lodged in jail and will have an examination this morning before justice Hoffman. It is stated that the man was at the Lion saloon, corner of Alder and Second streets, till about 2 o'clock on the ... of the incendiary attempts, and went away from there somewhat in liquor and angry with the saloon keeper, and that he left there at about 4 o'clock, went into a saloon down town, took a drink and was quite noisy; that he purchased some coal oil the day before the fires, at the Oregon bakery and had it put in such a bottle as was found at the corner of Oro Fino Hall. When the officers first went to his place, the only bottle in his premises like the one he had filled the day before, was empty and had no smell of oil about it. Immediately after this, and while the officer was out for a few ... warm, he took this empty bottle to the Occidental and had some oil put into it. The two bottles—the one found at the Hall and the one found in Wilkin's shop ... nearly alike and were originally Gerken bottles. That ... by thus far discovered is altogether circumstantial and the negro protest that he knows nothing of the matter. This may appear further in the examination to-day.

GRAND DOUBLE-TWIST CLOTH.—Mr. J. T. Wortley, Superintendent of the Oregon City Woolen Mills, a day or two since, brought down a piece of the Salem Mills make of double-twist ...meres, woven from yarn prepared in the machine invented by Mr. Wortley and Mr. Hoyt, President of the Salem Woolen Mills. Without ex... we may say that no Eastern mill has ever made any better article, and cannot do so without a considerable per cent greater cost. Double-twist usually costs more than the single thread cloth, but by Messrs Wortley & Hoyt's invention, the extra expense of doubling and twisting is saved, both operations being performed during the spinning of the yarn. This saving amounts, as well as we recollect, to about ten per cent of the cost. That an invention that will be likely to come into use generally, especially as at the present time the cost of manufacturing is so great as to compel many of the mills to ...pend. Messrs. W. & H. have, no doubt, a valuable patent. Mr. W. will probably go East this summer to effect sales of rights.

POLICE COURT.—In the Recorder's Court, yesterday, the following proceedings were had: J. A. Kellogg, charged with disorderly conduct by breaking the window of a house on Madison street, tried and decision reserved till this morning.

The complaint by Kellogg against Mrs. Emery—assault and battery—was withdrawn, the complainant paying the costs.

SABBATH SCHOOL PIC-NIC.—The several Sabbath Schools of this city have arranged to join in an union pic-nic, on ... day, the 11th. The steamer Alert tenders passage for the excursionists to Ross' Island, we believe. She will touch at Vaughn's wharf, foot of Morrison street at precisely 8:30 A. M. and receive on board the pupils, teachers and their friends. We understand that all who desire to attend the festivities, are invited to accompany the excursion. There is to be a basket dinner on the grounds and various sorts of recreations, and a pleasant time is anticipated.

NEW ODDFELLOW.—Capt. Adams, Grand Lecturer, I. O. O. F., writes: "I organized another Lodge of Good Templars, at Spring Valley, near Lincoln, Polk county, May 5th, 1867. The Lodge received the name of "Valiantie Lodge." Number of charter members, fifteen, Jacob C. Cooper is Worthy Chief—one of the first of Oddfellows, who have a large grain shipping house on the Willamette river at a place called Lincoln, six miles below Salem. The Lodge meets at the church in the Watling neighborhood—one of the finest church edifices in the State."

INSTALLATION.—The officers of Crystal Lodge, No. 19 I. O. G. T., were installed on the evening of the 7th inst., for the quarter ending July 31st, 1867, as follows: R. B. Nixon, W. C. T.; Mrs. D. Nixon, W. V. T.; Wm. J. ... W. S.; Monroe Kelty, W. F. S.; Miss Annie A. ... W. T.; John Hill, W. M.; Miss Florence Taylor, W. I. G.; Michael Gill, W. O. G.; Mrs. Josephine ... W. R. H. S.; Miss Carrie Folk, W. L. H. S.; Miss Viola Skinner, W. A. S.; M. E. Traver, W. Chaplain; John Richardson P. W. C. T.

NEW GERMAN CHEMIST.—An eminent German chemist has been making a long series of experiments with nitro..., such as swallowing it, applying it to the human cuticle, etc., etc. Swallowing it did not kill him, and outward applications did not have any perceptible effect, so he concludes that nitro-glycerine is safe to ... He knows it explodes. Aye, there's the rub; but the conclusion of the chemist is full of wisdom, and ... ally satisfactory, withal.

TURN-VEREIN FESTIVAL.—The Turn-Vereins have announced their intention of having a May-Day Festival on ..., May 10th. They will make an excursion by ... to Ross' Island, if the water is not then too high, or, in that case, to Miller's place, where the May-Day ceremonies will be celebrated. Judging by the success which has always, in the past, attend the efforts of the Turn-Vereins in the way of public amusements, this Festival will be a happy affair.

PASSENGER LOSSES ASCERTAINED.—There were several losers to ... valuable amounts, by the wreck of the W. B. Scranton, whose names did not appear in the vessel's manifest. When the manifest was furnished us, we were informed that there were a number of shippers by the bark, whose ... were not mentioned, but the omission could not be ... filled because it was not known who they were. Among others, Corbitt & Mackay had 298 packages, which, it is supposed, were insured in San Francisco.

FILLING THE HOLES.—There are in various parts of the north end of the city, a great number of unsightly and troublesome holes in the streets. Within a few days, ... Simmons & Son, who are excavating on block 39, have been filling up these bad places, much to the improvement of the appearance, at least, of the streets. A street has been filled to the grade, from North to Front.

SAND.—The little sloop Legal Tender arrived from Astoria yesterday morning, with about nine or ten tons of coarse round sand from the river beach just above ... Point, the only place on the river where such sand can be found, and there only, in a very small spot on the beach. It is used for sanding over paint and is worth about $5 per ton.

NEW CORPS WALLA WALLA.—The steamer Cascade, yesterday, brought to this city one hundred barrels of Walla Walla flour—from Reese's Mills—to be sent to New York. It is put up in good shape—three quarter sacks in a gunny. This is the first shipment from Walla Walla to New York. It will be forwarded by the Orsiamme.

LIGHT HOUSE INSPECTOR.—A California paper says: Comodore James M Watson, lately a resident on Mare Island Navy Yard, is ordered to duty as Light House Inspector at Astoria, Oregon. His many friends will be pleased to hear of his promotion from the grade of Commander to that of Comodore.

WOOLEN FABRICS.—Arrived per steamer Alert, from Oregon City Thursday, May 9th: 1 bale woolen goods, 2,500 qr sks flour, 16 rolls leather, 8 bales skins, 25 dried hides, 1 calf, 4 dressed hogs, 15 pkgs household ..., 106 bbl bbls dried apples, 150 bags feed and 4 pcs ...

RIVER.—The river here is again rising, this time from the Columbia. It is now a few inches higher than at the rise of two or three weeks since, and is within a foot and a half of the floor of the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf.

THE SHOOTING MATCH.—The grounds for the shooting match to come off on Saturday afternoon, between Tom Tucker and George Jones, have been selected back of the city, near the Canyon.

FIRE COMPANY'S DUES.—Willamette Engine Co No. 1, and Vigilance Hook and Ladder Co. were out last evening ... drill together at the corner of Morrison and First streets.

EXPRESS.—Wells, Fargo & Co received by the boat yesterday, from the Upper Columbia, $30,000 in treasure.

TO SAIL.—The steamship Orsiamme will sail for San ... on Saturday, the 11th, at four o'clock P M. ... for ... Taylor.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—BEADY, JUDGE.—The following proceedings were had in this Court, yesterday:

B F Bonham and O. Hinmson admitted to the bar.

U S vs. G. B. Savery, indicted for violation of Internal Revenue law; defendant pleaded guilty and fined $5 and costs.

U S. vs. W. Stemmens, indictment for violation of Internal Revenue law; defendant arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

U. S. vs. I A. Davenport, indictment for perjury. Jurors: F. X. Matthieu, Joseph Baxter, W Golton, J F. Nesl, Stimtel Parker, Ambrose Young, Wm. Whitney, J. Byers, Albert Gaines, J Dodson, W. A. Scruggin and John McKean; after hearing testimony on the part of the prosecution, Court adjourned.

THE CITADEL TAKEN.—We can imagine what an excitement will be created in the Capital when Barman Bros' large invoices of Clothing arrive. The array of cases and boxes was truly astonishing as they were conveyed to the P. T Co's wharf. And what is stranger still, there seems to be no depletion of their immense stock at the corner of Front and Morrison, formerly known as the City of Paris Store. When those gentlemen commenced business in this city, many sneered and said making a specialty of the sale of Ready Made Clothing would not pay, but this firm have clearly demonstrated the contrary, and they propose to convince the people at the Capital that the same is true of them there.

MR. FERRY, of this city, will continue to receive and forward names to the ASTORIA LOT SALE for a few days longer. The distribution will come off on the 15th.

THE FAMILY DYE COLORS.—Nothing has obtained so wide a reputation, nor one more merited, than the Family Dye Colors of Howe & Stevens. The colors include every desirable shade, and are as fadeless as they are beautiful. Sold by Smith & Davis.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.—From and after this day the well known FRENCH LAFARGUE RESTAURANT will serve a first-class table at the reduced price of Seven Dollars per week.

The wolf still howls at the poor Southerners' doors. While abundance blesses the people of bleak, barren New England, gaunt starvation lends a new horror to the self-imposed miseries of the poor whites of the plenteous, sunny South; and it is piteously exhibited to the world what a ghastly mockery was and is that Confederacy whose corner stone was human bondage and whose "high-toned," lauding sentiment was a contempt for the honest, faithful, thrifty industry which makes home a comfort and famine an impossibility. Will this horrid lesson disenthrall shiftless, unlettered "Caucasians" of the rebel States, and cause them to see the real authors of their woes? But let answers be expected from these questions after the North has shared her plenty with her starving countrymen. In this connection it is pleasing to note the fact that Yankees are migrating Southward in increased numbers. Maybe they will not heighten the "tone" of that section, but unless they are false to their teachings, they will make food more comfortable. Men who have been reared on beans and fish-balls do not starve unless they happen to get locked up in such dumb lines as Lee & Co. had at Salisbury and Andersonville.—Carson Appeal.

A BABY MARKET.—The New York Dispatch gravely assert that the sale of illegitimate babies in the city is a large and profitable business, and so publicly carried on as scarcely to be clandestine. These so-called nurseries are numerous, and may be found in different parts of the city. The seekers after infantile lovelinss can, upon application, be accommodated to any desired extent; babies from one day to one year old, are on hand, or provided to order, of any type of beauty or shade of complexion, and at prices ranging from $25 to $100, warranted sound, and in good state of preservation at the time of delivery. A reporter who visited one of these baby bazaars was offered a sickly little male infant, seventeen days old, with a red flabby skin, covered with "rash," for the unreasonable price of $30. A robust female child, four months old, was exhibited, but the reporter did not inquire the price. A baby boy one month old, who was good and gave no trouble, was held at $75. A year and a half old French boy, with fair round limbs, hazel eyes, and curly black hair, was ticketed at $150. The matron in charge volunteered the information that babies just then were "rather dull."

THE OLD SOUTH.—As is well known, Rev. Dr. Blagden, the senior, and Rev. Mr. Manning, the junior pastor of the Old South Church at Boston, each have the right to ventilate his own peculiar views on all topics, and neither is to be held to answer to the unsympathetic wing, and Temperance Edwin Thompson states it in this way: "Dr. Blagden preaches to the dead men of the congregation, and Manning to the live ones."

Attention, Portland Zouave Cadets.—Special Meeting this (Friday) evening at ½ o'clock. Let all come, as business of importance will be disposed of.

Extracting teeth by Dr. Richardson's apparatus, with Ether or Rhigolene Spray, is local in its application, the tooth and surrounding parts only becoming insensible to pain. Those suffering from bad teeth can now have them removed free from pain and without the effects of inhaling chloroform, ether or nitrous oxide (laughing gas).

N. B.—To strangers I would say, that a constantly increasing Dental Practice for the last 5 years in this city, will be a sufficient guarantee for them to receive a First-Class and Finished Piece of Work. Numerous testimonials to the same can be given at the Office.

AN ANTIDOTE FOR POISON.

THE PAIN KILLER.—Rev T. Allen, writing from Tavoy, Burmah, says. "Within the past four years I have used and dispensed of about five hundred bottles, but am now out. Please send me a fresh supply as soon as you can—say two hundred bottles. I dare not be without it myself, and there are endless calls for it, both by Burmans and Karens. I always take it with me into the jungles, and have frequent occasion to use it, both on myself and others. One night, while sleeping in an open Zayatz, I was awoke by a most excruciating pain in my foot. On examination, I found I had been bitten by a centipede. I immediately applied the Pain Killer, and found instant relief. In less than an hour I was again asleep."

Rev Mr Hibbard, writing from Burmah to his father, says: "I have used Davis' Pain Killer for coughs, colds, summer complaints, burns, and for the sting of scorpions, with uniform success. We always keep it where we can lay our hands on it in the dark, if need be." ap20dlc

NASBY.

MR. NASBY DESIRES CONFIRMATION—HE IS ADVISED HOW TO PROCEED BY THE PRESIDENT, BUT REJECTS THE PROPOSITION WITH SCORN.

WASHINGTON, (D. C.) March 15, 1867.

Washington agin! Wat changes hev ben made in the last too years! Not in Washington, for this delightful abode uv offishel purity hez'nt changed a particle, nor never will. From the summit uv Willard's Hotel I kin see now, ez I did a yero ago, the same signs uv "steamed oysters" in front, the Capitle towrin over the trees at the tother end uv the wvenoo, and behind the Patent Offis and Post Offis buildins, the first the Mecca uv every Yankee and the tother uv every Dimokrat who comes here. No! Washington ain't changed, but I hev. Formerly when I visited Washington it wus tite times with me. Willard's wus my hotel thep ez now. Chadwick—him uv the towerin hite, rotund abdomen, side whiskers and round hat—wus then, ez now, my landlord. In them days, before the happy return uv A. Johnson to reason to put sum, thousands uv Democrats, who had more stummick then money and more appetite than small change, into offis, and, per konsequence, into condition to pay their bills, I wus a guest at this hotel; which is to say I slept on the steps uv the Capitol and took, or tried to take, my meals at Chadwick's bountiful board. If I had no currency, I hed taste, and as I wus foreign for subsistence, I allus made it a pint to forage on the richest paster fields. It's ez easy to sheek a first class dinner ez if is a second class, and besides I felt that sich a hotel ez Willard's wus better able to stand sich boarders ez I wus than them uv less patronage. I kept away away from tother hotels out uv sympathy for the proprietors. Never shel I forget my last visit here. I hed run the dinin room guardian angel for a week, and wus congratulatin myself on another week at least, when Chadwick stopped me hisself, and the follerin conversashun ensoud:

"My friend," sed he, in winnin tones.

"Davis, Garrett, is my name," sez I promptly.

"We hear enuff," sez he. "Listen! I've let you run a week, cos it's my regler practice. You hed a hungry look, but by this time you ought to be filled up and able to go at least a week without eatin. Ez you ain't uv no earthly yoose to anybody, and make no pretensions to bein ornamental—git!" and three well directed kicks landed me onto the sidewalk.

But I her forgiven him. He treats me well. He hes confidence in me now, ez I have paid my board in advance. It's a reel he hez, he jocosely remarked, with men of pecoolar cast of countenance to hev em pay in advance. He says it's much the best way. After payin, such men ez me feel more comfortable about the house and so do the proprietors. It's me that is changed—I hev money to pay my bills. Bless the Lord for Seward, Johnson, Randall and other luxuries.

But pleasant ez it is to contrast my former position with my present proud one, I hev not time to dwell upon reminiscencies. Life is short; I am a practical man, and tho it may be pleasant to linger for a moment onto memory's pleasant fields, I cannot. My biznis in Washington is precisely what every Democrat's biznis there is, to git confirmed. It ain't no trouble for a Kentucky Dimocrat to git appinted, for the President has so far relaxed his rules in this particular ez to appint them ez wusnt never in the Confederit army, but to git confirmed is the pinch. There's the gauntlet of a Ablishn Senit to run, and good Lord what a knowledge they hev uv the out goins and in-comins of the appintees!

The President and Postmaster General Randall wus extremely anxious for my confirmashun, so much so that they advise me to resort to the strategy now so common in the North.

"Go back on me for the time bein," sed that trooly great man who adorns the sofas in the Presidential Mansion. "Wilcox em. That's your only hope; Wilcox em. I advised him to do it, and see how it worked."

"My dear sir," sed I, carried away by this new and unexpected development uv greatness, "Kin yoo bear to hev me who bears yoor banner in Kentucky bend the knee to a Ablishn Senit, and repoodiate yoo, even for a hour? It is safe in my case, for my natural affinities are with yoo, but dont, I beg uv yoo, advise all uv em to do so. My deer sir, two-thirds uv em will go out for confirmashun, and, of successful, will forgit to return."

But the great and good Johnson wuz'nt to take no denials. "Draw up," sed he, "a letter to a conservative member uv Congress, explainin your connection with me, and—"

And overkum with emotion, he bust into tears.

Sadly I undertook the task, and after four hours uv intense labor, the following was completed:

Hon. ——, House uv Reps.

Mr Dear Sir: My confirmashun by the Senit uv the Yoonited States to posishun uv Postmaster and the confedrit X Roads, wich is in the State uv Kentucky, being somewhat jeopardized by my operashuns in the politikle field doorin the past two years, I have the honor to explane that, not withstandin the fact that I wus a original Democrat, early in the war I took up arms for the preservashun uv our beloved Yoonion. The precise date I cannot give, owin to the demoralized condishun uv my mind at the time, but that yoo kin assertane for yoorselves. It wus about two weks after the fust draft. That I laid down arms agin ez soon ez the regiment struck Suthern ile will not, when the motives wich actooated me are known, be allowed to weigh agin me. It hez bin and I deserlid to the enemy—so it wus sed ur John Champe, but histry subsekently vindicated him—he went to fetch Arnold. I will not stop to reply to my defamers, but of it comes out finally that I went for the purpose of satisfyin rebels by okular demonstrashun that they hed nothin to hope for from the Northern Democrats uv whom I was a average specimen. what kin my enemies say then?

I do not deny that I wus a ardent supporter uv President Johnson from the beglaning uv his career. I wus filled with a drafted man's magnanimity toward a konkered foe, and, up to the very day I receeved my commishun I favored conciliatory disgraceful, for he is my superior officer—tour through the Northern States, and along my ry measures. I accompanied him on his—I will not hat higher than my body else's at his—I will not say drunken for reasons above mentioned—speeches, and aboozed the highly intelligent populaces at Cleveland, Injeanapilis, Springfield and other plats, in a manner wich, now that I think of it, wus tooly shameful. Also, I organized the Postmasters uv various Northern States into a Johnson party and viggerously supported members uv Congress pledged to the polioy uv wich I wus, at the time, a deceived supporter. About this time I wus appointed Postmaster and, finding I needed confirmashun, my views undergoed a radicle change. Time and observashun have taught me that instid uv conciliashun, coershun is our best holt, and that now military measures are necessary in the South, until them rebelyus people completely acquiese in the terms imposed by Congris for restoration. My present views on this interestin topic is best defined by the recent speeshes uv Hon. Charles Sumner, the eminint and trooly great Senator from the enlightened State uv Massachussetts, and also by the recent utterances uv them loyal Representatives, Hon. Thaddeus Stevens of Pennsylvany, Hon. & Gen. Benjamin F. Butler uv Massachoosetts, and Hon. James M. Ashley uv Ohio, in all uv whose sentiments, sich ez they hev now, and also them as they hev allus hed, as well ez them wich they may hereafter hev, I most heartily and entirely concur.

With this explanation, wich I hope will prove entirely satisfactory, and with the additional assheerance that I am now a very warm supporter uv the Congressional policy, and that when I look back and see what I hev bin a doin for the past two years I loathe myself that I kin hardly be restrained from suicidin, may I ask you to personally urge my confirmashun in the Senit? Trooly and respectfully yoors,

PETROLEUM V. NASBY.

I read this epistle to A. Johnson, who wus pleased to approve it, and also to Randall, who wus delited with it, and to Welles, who after forcing me to read it twice over wantid to know if it had anything to do with the Navy Department, and then returned to the President with my mind fully made up that I never would send that document.

"What?" said he, starin back astonished, "Not send it?"

"Never!" said I, "never! Sich things may do for Postmasters and Assessors wich you took from the Republikin ranks, but not for me. I her done meny things wich perhaps wouldn't hold out 60lbs to the bushel—voted for Pearce, and likewise for Buchannon, and supported em all in various dooins, besides other mean things too tejus to menshun, but my sensitive soul recoils at this, my proud stummick revolts. I leave it for your Custors and Wilcoxes and sich, no Kentucky Demokrat kin. Let them refoose to confirm me at their peril. I am the only Demokrat in ten miles who kin write, and they dare not, by turning me out, deprive Kentucky, wich never seceeded, uv my mail facilities."

"Brave man!" exclaimed Johnson, in a husky voice, and his eyes suffused with tears, fallin onto my neck and weepin profoosely down my back, "let em bust you. If they do, I pledge you my word and will give you sekoority now if you desire it, that you shall hev a partnership with Mrs. Cobb, or Mrs. Perry, wich is worth a score uv postoffices."

I hev allus noticed that virchoo is its own reward. By bein troo, wat a feold is now open to me! Let the Senit do its worst.

FROM OWYHEE.

From the Avalanche of the 27th inst., we obtain the following:

AFTER THEM.

On Wednesday last Major Hunt left Camp Lyon with fifty men well armed and mounted, for a campaign in the country round the head of the Owyhee. He will go up the South Fork of that stream and come down the Middle, and expects to be able to thoroughly scour that country before returning.

GENERAL CROOK

Is to receive a most valuable addition to his present force, in the way of a full company of Warm Spring Indians, from Oregon. They are now on the way from the Dalles, mounted on good steeds, and armed effectively, and under command of Captain McKay. This company have performed good fighting work, and possessing a thorough knowledge of Indian traits, habits and deadly hate towards the Snakes, will be most acceptable auxiliaries to the command of General Crook.

PURDY GULCH

heads up to the south line of the Oro Fino ledge, and has been remarkably rich in placer gold. Many thousands of dollars were taken out last year, and considerable pay ground still remains at its head. The claim owners are opening up their ditches and will soon be blessed with plethoric purses. The float quarts there is very rich in gold, and will be carefully saved and worked in an arastra after the water fails and puts a stop to their placer washing.

MINING NOTES.

The Surplus Silver Cord shows to better advantage than it did at the time of our last personal inspection. The ledge at this point is not extensively exposed to sight, but an opening near twenty feet in length and ten deep below the main tunnel exhibits a large belt of ore of a very high grade of richness. It bears a blueish-green hue, with free gold, but chiefly a brown sulphuret of gold and silver. The vein is of the same inclination and general appearance as in the original—of which frequent mention has been made in these columns.

The Vulcan, north of the Silver Cord, on the same vein, still presents encouraging features, and Messrs. Bingham & Jackson are sanguine of making it a paying mine.

The Hays & Ray tunnel is going Poormanwards quite rapidly. But little blasting is necessary and picks are sufficient to drive the work. The air is yet tolerable without artificial supplies—though the workmen are now nearly six hundred and fifty feet from the mouth of the tunnel. The ore is improving in quality as the work advances. The vein is perfect. The main shaft on the old Poorman works has been started down to strike the tunnel two hundred and fifty feet below. It is being pushed down by two shifts of men and will connect about the same time the tunnel is completed. The mine will then be opened so as to afford perfect ventilation and drainage for two years' work. At present it is dry and in as fine condition as when work was suspended last fall.

The Woodstock boys still keep working on in a spirit of encouragement, and their dump-pile shows for itself. The greatest possible care is taken to keep the ore pile clear of granite or any species of barren quartz. They have displayed an energy in developing their mine deserving of the biggest kind of success.

The New York mine has two shifts of workmen, and Mr. James McCready—foreman—prepares the timbers for the shaft. The work has attained a depth of over seventy feet and under the terms of the lease must go to eighty. This depth will be reached the ensuing week, after which stoping will commence and ore will be taken out sufficient for a regular supply for ten or more stamps at the beginning. The average value of the ore will prove equal to the Oro Fino. The ledge is free of talc and the quarts easily separated from the other vein matter.

SPEECH-MAKING—PARLIAMENTARY REPORTS PAST AND PRESENT.—Speechifying ad extremum, or rather ad nauseam, is become an Anglo-Saxon vice. Edmund Burke was its author. Before Burke's advent long speeches and spoken essays were not much known. One day Burke came into the Commons with a huge budget of documents. A country member innocently asked if the gentleman was going to read all them papers and bore the House with a long speech? Burke, choked with rage, flew out of the room to cool off. Chatham and his earlier colleagues talked briefly in Parliament. London dailies print all that is in debate, and it is very ponderous reading. There is so much common-place and endless repetition that to read all that is spoken seems elaborate waste of time. The Parliamentary speeches that Dr. Samuel Johnson made and printed for members were models of true oratory. He did his speeches up this wise: Reporters were not, in those days, allowed in Parliament. But the Doctor, while editing Cave's Magazine, hit upon a clergyman, with a famous memory, by the name of Worthington. Him he smuggled into the two Houses. This man could repeat the longest harangue, disputation or address verbatim et punctuatim. "After Mr. Johnson found himself much perplexed from the extent of his colleague's memory, which not only picked up the material parts of debate, but the very grubs and worms of digression." Dr. Johnson at last made it a rule to receive only the substance of debate, noting down the heads, "and then at his leisure, gave it all those points and graces conformable to to the charantors of the speakers," much as modern reporters dress up legislative Solons. These speeches were published in the Gentleman's Magazine, from about 1740 to 1744, under the several titles of M. Agrippa, Julius Florius, Sempronius, etc. After reading these speeches made by Dr. Johnson and loaded into the months of other men, Voltaire asserted "that the eloquence of the British Senate rivalled that of ancient Greece and Rome." If there are no speeches in modern days rivalling Grecian and Roman eloquence, it is because there are no Dr. Johnsons capable of making them. The British Senate, like other Senates, is drowned out by concatenation of unmeaning verbiage. Lord Chatham began a speech: "Sugar, my Lords!" and a horse-laugh convulsed the House. But when, at the top pitch of his voice, he roared out: "Sugar! sugar!! who laughs at sugar now?" there was an ominous silence. This was oratory. If not, it was a splendid rebuke.—London Cor. Bulletin.

Senator Wilson, in reply to a letter from Ira Washen, of Texas, says:

In reply to your question, does the law, as it now exists, disfranchise the rank and file of the soldiers who had never taken an oath to support the Constitution of the United States? I have to say that it does not disfranchise them. The Constitutional Amendment disqualifies from holding offices, certain persons who have taken an oath to support the United States and then engaged in rebellion or gave aid and comfort to it. This class of persons are disfranchised, and all other persons are entitled to vote. Those persons are mentioned in the Constitutional Amendment, so that all persons will know who are disqualified and disfranchised.

A widow lady at Danville, Kentucky, took an orphan boy to raise, quite small, and when he arrived at the age of 18 she married him, she being in her 50th year. They lived many years together as happy as any other people. Ten years ago they took an orphan girl to raise. Last fall the old lady died, being 68 years of age, and in seven weeks after the old man married the girl they had raised, he being 68 years old and she 18.

An Atlanta paper disputes the statement of the Macon Journal that there are but 27 counties in the State which have a majority of negro voters. He says there are 45.
